History of Bluewater Trails

In the late 1960's, the Canadian National Railway right-of-way from Sarnia to Stratford was decommissioned. In the early 1990's, the property was designated as a linear park allowing it to be used as a trail. The trail was named the Howard Watson Nature Trail and was the start of the trail system in Sarnia.

In 1996, through public input, the City of Sarnia recognized the need for a trail network in Sarnia. A committee of council was established. A consultant hired to design the Bluewater Trails Master Plan in 1999 felt confident that Bluewater Trails represented a major opportunity for the City of Sarnia and surrounding communities.

Today the Bluewater Trails Committee is made up of volunteer citizens and user organizations working in co-operation with City Planning and Community Services Staff to develop an on-road and off-road trail system for the City of Sarnia and the Village of Point Edward with links to trail systems in the adjoining municipalities.
